CARMEL ROTARY MAKES POSSIBLE SCHOOL IN COSTA RICA

A cooperative effort by the Robert Louis Stevenson School and the Carmel Rotary Club has resulted in the establishment of a new two-room school in a remote jungle community in Costa Rica. The school will provide educational opportunities for more than 75 children who could not have had these advantages otherwise.

The project began with the Interact Club at RLS which is an organization sponsored by Rotary International devoted to international understanding and good will. The concept was a "natural" for the Stevenson boys inasmuch as the student body had seven years earlier raised funds for the construction of a school in the small and isolated community of San Mateo, Mexico, which previously had had no facilities for education.

Costa Rica was selected for this adventure in international assistance primarily because the father of one of the boys in the RLS Interact Club, Richard Johnson, is a businessman in Costa Rica, and a member of the San Jose, Costa Rica Rotary Club. Through his help and guidance, and with the cooperation of the Ministry of Education, an appropriate site was determined for the new school.

The Stevenson boys, with a series of fund-raising activities, raised $750 and the Carmel Rotary Club, sparked by Interact Director Stuart Mitchell, voted to match the school's funds bringing the total to $1,500, an amount sufficient to pay for all of the materials for the new building. Construction of the schoolhouse is being done largely by the people in the community, and the Costa Rican Ministry of Education is supervising the project.

During the Easter holidays, eight boys from the Interact Club, accompanied by Headmaster and Mrs. Ricklefs, journeyed to Costa Rica to participate in the presentation ceremonies and to assist in the establishment of the school. The highlight of the trip, which included a two-day stopover in Mexico City, was the trip by a caravan of land-rover jeeps from San Jose, Costa Rica, into the jungle lowlands. The community is about 40 miles east of San Ysidro, a "truck stop" on the breathtaking Inter-American highway. San Ysidro is a mountain town with a population totaling about 40,000 which has no telephone communication with the outside world. Prior to the construction of the Inter-American highway, which was undertaken by United States engineers during World War II as a precautionary measure for the protection of the Panama Canal, the inhabitants had never seen an automobile. Even today, there are relatively few inasmuch as the "highway" is not one generally sought out for pleasure driving. The trip from San Ysidro into the jungle is over a trail used mostly by oxen-pulled carts.

Headmaster Ricklefs, past president of the Carmel Rotary Club, was most enthusiastic about the project. He said, "After a quarter of a century of membership in Rotary, which has service as an ideal, the establishment of this school in Cosa Rica has been my most rewarding experience. The sacrifices made by the boys, the generosity shown by the Carmel Club, and the magnificent hospitality extended by Mr. Johnson and the other Costa Rica Rotarians represented a cooperative effort of the first magnitude. As is usually the case with humanitarian efforts, the givers gain more than the recipients."

New Councilman Appointed

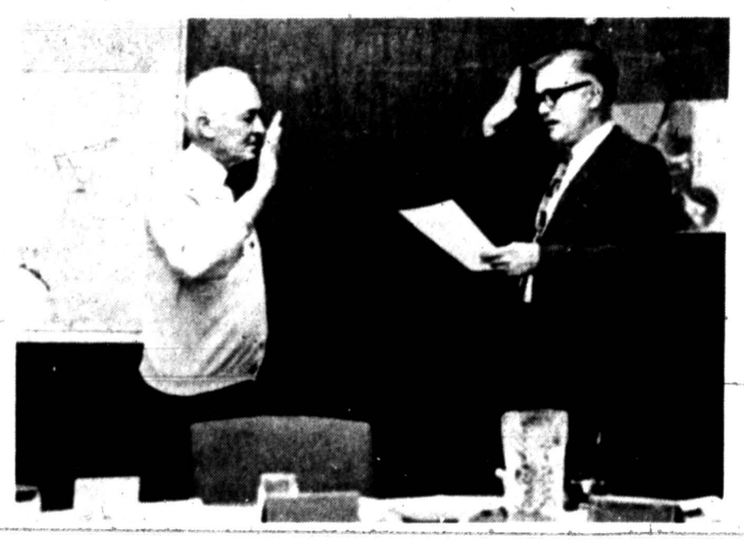
The Carmel City Council met in a special meeting Thursday afternoon to decide whether to hold an election or merely appoint a new councilman to fill the unexpired term of William Sefton who resigned his post last week upon his doctor's recommendation.

At the meeting, the Councilmen decided that holding a special election would be too costly to the city (about $2000) so they chose to appoint a councilman instead.

Mayor Barney Laiolo nominated Ken Brown of the Village Inn and Councilman Herbert Blanks moved to close nominations. The City of Carmel now has a new councilman who, according to the Mayor, "is capable and will do a good job."

Councilman Frank Falge agreed, saying, "Ken is a good man who can ably represent he motel interest as did Mr. Sefton."

Councilman Brown, 65, is a native of Iowa and has lived in Carmel 17 years. He and his wife, Beryl, have one son and daughter. Since his arrival on the Peninsula, Brown has been active in numerous community activities, including the Chamber of Commerce, Community Chest and Salvation Army.



City Administrator Hugh Bayless swears in newly-appointed Councilman Ken Brown who will join Councilman Frank Falge and Mayor Barney Laiolo on their trip to Anaheim where the trio will attend the League of California Cities' Seminar for newly-elected legislators. The guests at the seminar will register at the Disneyland Motel on May 19 and return to Carmel May 21, hopefully more aware of parliamentary procedures, administration of departments, political leadership and municipal law.

Little League Barbecue

The Carmel Little League is sponsoring an "Old Fashion Family Day" barbecue Sunday, May 19. There will be games, including a greased pig contest, sack race, foot race, cake walk, dart game, wet sponge throw at coaches and managers. The barbecue will be held at the Carmel Little League Park next to the Mission. Bring the whole family.

Spanish Dancers At Sunset

On Friday, May 24, Amparo and the Cuadro Espanol are slated for Carmel's Sunset Auditorium, the performance to start at 8:30. The dancer and her lively young troupe of five will present a program of Spanish dance and music as the last, and "bonus" concert, of the current 41st Series of the Carmel Music Society's annual programming.

Dancer Amparo, who has appeared in films and on television as well as in concert, was born in Europe and has devoted herself to study of Spain's folk art. Currently she is touring with a group of young people most of whose interest in Spanish dance and music stems from their own Spanish family heritage. An exception is Marcia Kuster Rider who is widely known on the Monterey Peninsula for her interest in dance and theatre. Marcia, taking the name of Ana Gabriela in the troupe, lived in Carmel until recently, and once studied with Amparo when the latter lived and taught here on the Peninsula.

Seats for the concert will be largely filled by subscribers; others interested in attending may check the box office prior to performance. There will be no charge for extra seats as this is the bonus concert ending the Carmel Music Society's season. Those wanting tickets for next season may inquire at the Friar Tuck Book Shop, Mission and Sixth, telephone 624-7500.

Fire Damages Santa Rita Home

A fire to which 18 men and three pieces of equipment responded on Monday at 12:39 p.m. made a shambles of the kitchen and smoke damaged the rest of the house to an estimated total of $8000 to $9000. The house was on Santa Rita between 3rd and 4th and no one in the family of Lt. James M. Arrison, present tenants, was at home at the time. The cause was not known.

The house is owned by Parker Hall who is in England at present.

Bulletin!

Welles Has Hit Show With 'Feiffer and Folks'

Welles Humanist Educational Theatre put a full potion of drama and comedy into "Feiffer and Folks" and stirred up an evening of entertainment for Peninsula theatregoers.

Welles took a compilation of Jules Feiffer's most hilarious cartoons, the classical Soviet humor of Checkov's "The Boor" together with the seriousness of William Saroyan's "Hello Out There," and was able to satisfy the personal tastes of everyone.

The dessert came first. Welles scheduled the Feiffer cartoons for the beginning and most of us, if not all, were caught by surprise at the very funny dramatizations. We never ceased to explode with laughter at the biting humor of this Greenwich Village wit, Jules Feiffer. Each cast member deserve praise in getting over a very difficult sense of humor without the accompaniment of cartoons. The lighting effects added considerably to the punch. Portraying the characters were: Ron Bucher, Jack Long, Tanyss Martule, Frank Mariano, Peter Medina, and Barbara Ruth.

Checkov's "The Boor" was done in excellent taste on an impelling set by actors Peter Medina, Barbara Ruth and Jack Long. Medina, the Russian Calvery officer, seemed to be earnest in his quest to collect his money from the widow Popov, played by Barbara Ruth. Miss Ruth should be especially commended for this her first performance. Jack Long, her servant, was good in his "whining" portrayal of the Servant Smirnov.

"Hello Out There" seemed not to be the most popular of the evening, but for no fault of the actors: Tanyss Martula, whose Texas accent was supurb (take it from a former Texan) Ron Bucher and Jack Long. The reason for its comparable lack of success was the burdensome mood music which halted the action on stage, the playwright's monotonous lines, "hello out there," and just because it was drama. Other than those technical observations, "Hello Out There" was very well done.

No one should miss this exciting endeavor at the Theatre in the Ground.

'Noah' Opens at Circle Theatre

Community Theatre members and the Peninsula theatre-going public are in for a rare treat when Andre Obey's fantasy-comedy "Noah" opens at the Circle Theatre Friday, May 17.

Obey has dramatized for us the story of Noah's famous ordeal told in the manner of a fairy tale. Noah's voyage begins auspiciously enough with Noah, his wife, his three sons and three of the neighbors' girls. Accompanying them are, of course, the animals . . . a bear, a lion, a tiger, a lamb, a wolf, and a sissy cow!

Circle Theare Guest Director, Charles Thomas, is now busy polishing the final rehearsals. Mr. Thomas is a graduate of the American Academy of Dramatic Art, and is well remembered for his Circle Theatre and Studio Theatre productions.

The stage manager is Roy Baxter, with Ruth Jordan Allan as production assistant. Betty Szold is the prompter. The colorful costumes are being designed by Adele Bramlet.

Reservations for "Noah," which will play Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings at 8:30, are now being accepted at the theatre box office at 624-2669.

Theatre Review

THE GRADUATE, interesting, if not completely compelling comedy.

GRAND PRIX . . . a beautiful film cinemagraphically speaking. Stars actually race at high speeds while filming this magnificent picture in 70 mm film. Full stereophonic sound adds to the impact.

YOURS, MINE AND OURS . . . a story based on Carmel's Beardsley family.

NO WAY TO TREAT A LADY . . . Rod Steiger enacts a mentally-ill person whose murders catch you off balance.

* * *

SECRET WAR OF HARRY FRIG . . . Paul Newman poses as a general in a World War II prison camp. Funny.

* * *

WATERHOLE NO. 3 . . . James Coburn as a cowpoke. An adult western . . . I mean an adult. Be certain to catch the subtle lines.

* * *

WAIT UNTIL DARK . . . A beautiful story about a blind woman threatened by hoods. Academy award nomination.

* * *

COOL HAND LUKE . . . An academy award nomination for acting. Good, but not worth an Oscar. Newman plays a convict and wins friends through indifference.

* * *

ELVIRA MADIGAN . . . "Perhaps the most beautiful movie in history" . . . New Yorker.

New Business In Carmel Valley

The grand opening of the Money Shop is scheduled for this weekend. It is located on Carmel Valley Road across from the Texaco station in the Village. Two professional numismatists have pooled their efforts in this new venture and are handling both United States and foreign coins and currency. They are Larry K. Jeffers from San Diego, living on the Peninsula and hoping soon to move to the Valley; and his associate, M. A. (Cal) Schlesinger, with Litton Industries at Fort Ord.

They have many plans to make this the most active money center in Monterey County: Although temporarily delayed by the telephone strike, the installation of their nationwide teletype service is scheduled soon, for fast communication is needed on rapidly changing items such as silve coins.

Sometime in June they will install the only Bid Board between Los Angeles and San Francisco. Their plans include the sponsoring of a Carmel Valley Coin Club, to begin in June.

Their new shop at 13 West Carmel Valley Road has the largest selection of numismatic supplies in Monterey County. The shop will be open seven days a week—Friday and Saturday till 9,

The Del Monte Kennel Club Dog Show, to be held this year on May 26 at Pebble Beach, will draw many familiar as well as unfamiliar entrants. One of the most unfamiliar of the breeds is th Lhasa Apso, a sturdy, small dog with Tibetan heritage. His most distinctive physical feature is the long, profuse coat which is very similar to human hair in consistency and hangs straight to the ground without a wave or curl. The breed is also known for their utterly delightful personality, radiating charm from the tip of their shaggy tails to the end of their stubby nose. Chen Kimmis Lord Jim, (above) owned by Miss Corinne Swalwell of "Belles and Beaus," will be entered in this year's competition.

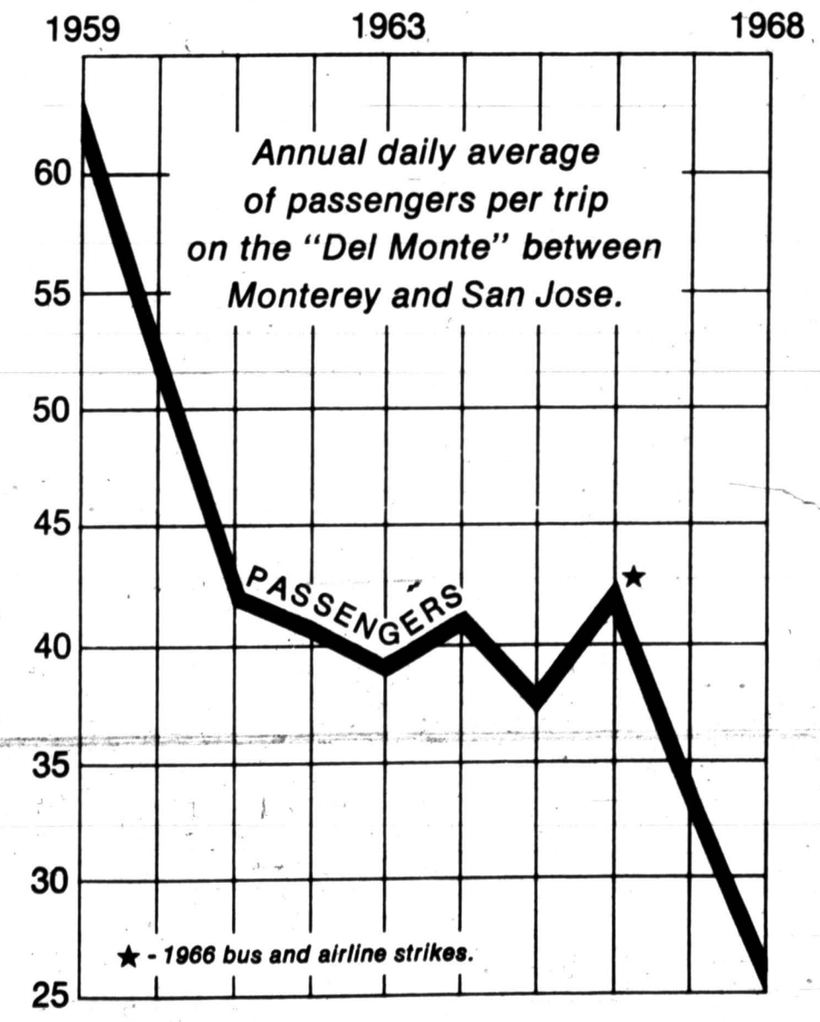
OBITUARIES

Charles A. (Chuck) Fuller, 63, died last week at his Pebble Beach home on Alva Lane. He had lived on the Peninsula for 35 years where he had been associated with the Carmel Land Co., was a member of the Old Capital Club and the Cypress Point Club.

Funeral services were held at Church of the Wayfarer, the Rev. Alexander Bryans officiating. He was inurned at El Carmelo Cemetery, Paul Mortuary in charge. Friends wishing to contribute in his memory may do so to the American Cancer Research Society, Monterey.

Q. How many people ride SP's "Del Monte" train between Monterey and San Jose?

A. An average of only 26 passengers per trip!



The point is this: fewer and fewer people really need or want the "Del Monte."

An ad in the Pine Cone has a 7-times-better chance to be read than an ad in a daily newspaper.

Diana Fischer In Germany

Diana Fischer, daughter of police Lt. and Mrs. Bob Fischer, spent her twenty first birthday in Germany last Friday, May 10.

In August of last year she had the opportunity to see Europe, with the thought of returning by Christmas. The castles of Germany, the chalet's of Switzerland and the flower bedecked hills of Germany made it impossible to stay only four months. Diana is now living in an apartment in Sandhausen, only four miles from Heidelberg and working as a grocery checker week days. Her weekends are filled with short trips; last week it was boating on the Neckar river —this weekend a concert in Frankfurt is planned.

Born in Carmel, graduating in 1965 from Carmel High School — Diana attended Monterey Peninsula College while working at the Lorene Scala dress shop.

Word recently received by her parents indicates that Diana plans to return home in late September—no longer a Carmel teen-ager, but a young lady of twenty one—Happy birthday Diana.

New Baha'i Election

Irene Mezger was chosen chairman, Virginia Townsend, vice-chairman, Laura Smithson, secretary, Inez Greeven, treasurer, Norbert Kammer, recording secretary, and Nell Applegate, India Haggerty, Ruth Bixler, and Marjorie Seiffert other members of Carmel Assembly of Bahai's, recently.

Dean's List at UCD

Two former Monterey Peninsula College students from Carmel, James E. Holt and Hazel B. Jacoby have been named to the Dean's List at the University of California at Davis.

Jim is majoring in veterinary medicine. He is the son of Mrs. Phyllis E. Holt.

Hazel, the daughter of Francis H. Jacoby, attended MPC as an advanced placement student in 1965 while finishing high school.

A Visit At Emile Norman's Gallery

"Fish Eagle" — Painting in acrylic on masonite.

A visit to the Mission St. gallery of Emile Norman always inspires me with awe for the truly exceptional talent, creativity and imagination displayed in his work. He is a master of each of the varied mediums in which he works.

On entering Emile Norman's gallery you will be impressed by the small version of the seven-foot bronze of St. Francis that Mr. Norman did for the Bank of California in San Francisco. His wood inlay work, done in panels and full form sculpture, are masterpieces of craftsmanship and elegance. The studied simplicity of his inlaid marbles leaves no doubt as to his mastery of that medium also.

Soon to be seen in the gallery is a new piece of wood inlay sculpture depicting a zebra.

Mr. Norman's inspirations are drawn mostly from nature with which he lives in close association in his mountain aerie at Big Sur.

Do-It-Yourself Program for Youth

On Monday and Tuesday, May 20-21, a woman whose face and figure belies her age of 70, will let local residents in on her secret of looking 20 years younger.

Pamela Brenton will demonstrate her Health-Youth Beauty program (for both men an women) at 2 p.m. and again at 8 p.m. in the Don Room at the San Carlos Hotel. She will illustrate her lectures with slides.

Discussing her do-it-yourself health project, Miss Brenton says she is not against doctors . . . there are four in her husband's family alone. Nor is she a "pitch woman" and charges no admission for her lectures. There will be no collection at the meeting.

Schoenbrod At Swiss Jewelers

Gilbert Schoenbrod has joined Henri Corbat, Carmel's Swiss Jeweler, whose shop is located on San Carlos near 5th, as custom designer, continuing the work for which he has been widely known under the hallmark of "Gilbert Originals" since his establishment in Carmel in 1949.

This is the artist-craftsman's return to the creation of fine jewelry after a 10-year sabbatical during which he gave himself over completely to his other interest, painting. His art will be represented by art dealer Les Laky.

We may live without poetry, music and art;
We may live without conscience and live without heart;
We may live without friends; we may live without books;
But civilized man can not live without cooks.
He may live without books,
what is knowledge but grieving?
He may live without hope, what is hope but deceiving?
He may live without love, what is passion but pining?
But where is the man that can live without dining?

World Affairs Council Tackles Asian Problems At Asilomar Conference

"There is no evidence that North Vietnam is prepared to make significant concessions" said Robert A. Scalopino, professor of political science, University of California at Berkeley, in his address to the Northern California Council of World Affairs weekend Conference at Asilomar, Saturday evening. A youngish audience, which included many college students, filled the auditorium.

The U. S., he said, must establish priorities, get away from unilateralism, help with the peacekeeping and cope with the American revolution. In answer to a question concerning the Pueblo, he felt it would have been a mistake to recapture it by force, but in the absence of evidence, he was not in favor of admitting any violation.

Romania, according to Corneliu Bogdan, Romanian ambassador, who spoke on the same program, believes that coexistence between the two ideologies is possible and desirable.

"The myth of the Republic of China, which the U. S. supports, cuts down the credibility gap" of the U. S. in the opinion of Sir Denis Brogan, British economist, professor of political science at Cambridge, who gave a witty critique of American foreign policy on Sunday morning.

He was followed by a panel on which Eugene V. Rostow, under secretary of State for Political Affairs said capitalism in the U.S. is no longer the system Marx preached against, but is rather a people's capitalism of shared wealth. The other speakers on the panel were Anthony Hartley, British editor of Interplay; A. R. Gale, vice-president, international, General Precision Equipment Corp., who said that in the final analysis, unless we could offer jobs and economic security in these foreign countries, we had no right to be there; and panel moderator Roger Heyns, Chancellor of the University of California at Berkeley.

After a spirited exchange of different points of view, he closed the conference with the remark: "Now you see why we have difficulty preserving order at the University."

Juveniles and Law

The Hon. Eugene Harrah of Carmel, Judge of the Monterey-Carmel Municipal Court, will address the general monthly meeting of Parents Without Partners on Thursday, May 23 in the Mark Thomas Inn, Monterey, at 8:00 p.m.

Judge Harrah will discuss "Juveniles and the Law," a topic of particular interest to single parents who are raising children without the balancing influence of a marriage partner.

From A Librarian's Notebook

By Ruth Galvin Thornburg, City Librarian

A news note from the Carmel Library is that we are at long last preparing to store older fiction in the now overcrowded room we rent at Sunset Center. This simply means that if you are a borrower who wants to reread some of the old ones you have two alternatives. Telephone the day before you come into the library to pick up your books, OR come in to tell us what you want and then come back again the next day to pick up the books. So many members of our library family come in every day, that to get the books the next day will really pose no problem. Already we are having heated protests about this. Older books are dear to the hearts of many of our dear-to-our-hearts patrons, but space is what we lack and no amount of pushing will stretch out our walls or shelves. Sorry about that!!

Back to the books, which is what we are here for, actually. First one is entitled HOW TO MAKE THE REST OF YOUR LIFE THE BEST OF YOUR LIFE by Henry Legler. This book tells you how not to retire from life just because you have retired from business. It says it tells you how to feel 39 the rest of your life. If that sounds a little too optimistic to be true, and it does, reassure yourself enough to expect a great deal of good advice and positive attitudes. A good book, so give it a try.

EXPLAINING DEATH TO CHILDREN is a serious book, and by that I do not mean that it is just a dissertation by the author on a serious subject. It is a compilation of articles on the subject, and is intended to help the parent faced with the task of such explanation. Death and sex are the two subjects which seem to confound the average parent. We have books on explaining sex to children and we are grateful to have this one on explaining death. The editor is Earl Grollman, and the book is filled with understanding and compassion.

Autism is defined as an absorption in fantasy to the extent of being unable to become interested in reality. Some children are born autistic and our next book is about such a child. That child, called Elly, was fortunate in that she had three older brothers and sisters, and her parents were college professors who were able to take an intelligent attitude toward her disability. This is a strange, almost unearthly condition, which sometimes improves with age and sometimes does not. The title of the book is THE SIEGE and the author is Clara Park.

Daphne Sheldreck was born and raised in Kenya, and after her marriage to David Sheldrick, she went with him to Tsavo East which is a vast game refuge between Mombasa and Nairobi. Her book THE ORPHANS OF YSAVO is a sensitive account of all the young animals they befriended and raised. There are photographs and the chapter headings are the names of their animals. This is a sort of Daktari in book form. Interesting.

WHITE TIE AND DAGGER is the title of a new book by news correspondent Andrew Tully. This is true reporting about spies, the CIA, foreign embassies and diplomats. The author, who lives in Washington, D.C., does the column "National Whirligig."

This is a good week for books. Come in and consult the new listings on the bulletin board.

Southern Germany

The Bannisters and Murrays left Amsterdam last week and continued their exciting trip into Germany.

Buon Giorno All—

It has been a full week since the last communication, but I'm finding it hard to write because we are moving so fast and seeing so much! Each day is a new and exciting experience, and each thing we see, I think can't possibly be as good as what has gone before, but each day proves as good or better than the last! Suffice it to say, I am not disappointed in anything—everything is better than I could possibly have hoped for!

I think we left you last as we were leaving Holland. We took the train from Amsterdam to Coblenz, where we boarded a steamer for a four-hour trip on the Rhine River. This was a delightful trip with good weather, and we saw ever so many castles perched on the hills overlooking this beautiful river. Luncheon on board was delicious, and we disembarked at Bingen where we met our driver, Luke and the Volkswagen Mini-Bus. Luke (can't think of his last name) shook hands with all six of us and greeted each lady with "Enchante, Madame or Mademoiselle." He has proved to be a delightful young man, although I must admit, he has his hands full with Murray and Bannister! His sense of humor is good, although somewhat restricted because of language differences, but he is gradually learning American slang and "Murray-isms"! Luke is Swiss and is from Geneva—he is 24—speaks French as his native tongue, but also speaks German, English, and a little Italian. Luke suffers from hay-fever although he describe it as an "ALL-ERGY to pole-eens, and each country we enter the "pole-eens" become more deadly! The Austrian "pole-eens" were bad, but the Italian "pole-eens" are even worse!

When Luke met us at Bingen we drove to Heidelburg, stopping at Worms for dinner. Luke endeavored to translate the German menu for us at a small roadside inn, but we all ended up with Veal again!

Our tour of Heidelburg was delightful and very reminiscent of "The Student Prince." Had a beer at the "Red Ox Inn" and lunch at Ritters—more VEAL! Each meal is a real experience as we attempt to decipher the menu — usually ending up with something we ate the meal before! However, the "wine of the region" has become a permanent part of our meal, and I shudder to think of the extra poundage which is being annexed to our various "derrieres" as we eat croissants and jelly for breakfast, full-course meals (mit wein) for lunch, and then, of course, cocktails and an enormous meal for dinner (also mit wein!). Bill Murray's pronunciation of foreign words is something out of this world—in fact, it may be the occasion to trigger the 3rd World War! We are gradually getting to recognize some of the road signs—which are all pictorial rather than written, because of the many foreign drivers—but Jacques and I are both extremely grateful that neither of our husbands are doing any driving on this trip!

We left Heidelburg after lunch and drove to Baden-Baden, which is a beautiful SPA. Wish we could have had more time there, but only stayed overnight. Got all dressed up and visited the Gambling Casino, which is considered the finest in Europe, including Monte Carlo. We practically signed our lives away to get in, but didn't wager a single "mark." The girls stood around ogling all the diamonds on the customers, and Jacques and I admired the beautiful decor. The boys stood around criticising the systems of the players, but fortunately they didn't try one of their own!

When we arrive at a hotel bag and baggage in our Mini-Bus, we are really quite a sight. The Hotel at Baden-Baden was a very luxurious spot, and I must say I felt a little like a refugee as our eight (8) bags, six (6) flight bags, two (2) umbrella bags, liquor containers and all the

Point Lobos

If I could not shut my eyes—
if I could not close my mind sharply—like a door against it how would I dare to climb this burning height, look down and let it all come in at once . . .
I should die;
rocks would shatter me;
the passionate trees crash down, and the sea—the sea would spring up in all its beauty even to this great height.
Or if I should leap down to it so to be finished with the ecstasy—so to lie forever
like an empty shell with only soft blue water flowing through and unheard sond.

Jeanne D'Orge In "Lobos"

(Jeanne D'Orge, one of whose poems appears above, is better known as Jeanne Cherry, a distinguished Carmel artist. She passed away several years ago but her friends hope that her work will soon be shown in her gallery on Guadalupe street.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE RADIO PROGRAM

"Assuring Our Teen-agers That We Really Care," is the subject of Sunday's program on "The Bible Speaks to You" and will be heard over Station KGO at 7 30, KRML 7:45 and KDON at 8:45 a.m. The Christian Science church has prepared this program, turning to the Bible for how one may show a youngster who has withdrawn from his parents that they really love him.

Church Under The Pines

Church of the Wayfarer will hold its 11:30 service on Sunday, May 19, "under the pines" in Indian Village in the Del Monte Forest. The regular service will be held in the sanctuary at 9:30.

Following the service, sponsored by the Commission on Education, a picnic will be held for which coffee, soft drinks and ice cream will be furnished. There will be a fireplace for those who want to cook out. Later there will be games.

Those driving are requested to stop by the front of the church at 11 to pick up those who need transportation.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SUNDAY SERMON

The subject for this week's Lesson-Sermon, which will be read in all Christian Science churches this Sunday, is "Mortals and Immortals."

The Golden Text is from Romans: "Be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect will of God."

Passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following: "We must form perfect models in thought and look at them continually, or we shall never carve them out in grand and noble lives."

YMCA Begins Camp Sign-Up

With more than 140 places already taken, the Monterey Peninsula YMCA began signing up boys for its summer camp program this week.

The first Y-Camp of the summer, a High Sierra Caravan for 13- and 14-year-old boys, will depart on June 13, the day after school is out. About 45 boys and leaders will travel into the Mammoth Lake section of the High Sierra to begin a 10-day camping trip.

High Sierra caravaners will visit such places as June Lakes, Rainbow Falls, Devils Postpile, Bodine Ghost Town, Convict Lake, Hot Creek, Upper Yosemite Creek and Yosemite Valley. Main activities will be fishing, swimming, hiking and sight-seeing. The program features daily inter-denominational Chapel services, nightly campfire, and the trip will be highlighted by a 2-day back-pack down Yosemite Creek, to the top of Yosemite Falls, and into the Valley.

Other Y-camps this summer, include Y-Day Camps for 6-9-year-olds, Resident Camp at Lake Sequoia for 9-12-year-olds, a Yellowstone-Grand Teton Caravan for 14-15-year-olds, and a High Sierra Back Pack for those 16 and older.

Anyone interested in any of these Y-Camps, may call Monterey Peninsula YMCA at 373-4166 for further information or a camp brochure.

Community Church Ice Cream Party

Two events of general interest are to be held at the Community Church of the Monterey Peninsula during the forthcoming week.

On Sunday, May 19, from 3:00 to 6:00 p.m., the IKTHYS YOUTH GROUP will hold an old fashioned "Ice Cream Social" at the church, with entertainment and a variety of delicious homemade ice cream. Entertainment will be presented at 4 o'clock during which no refreshments will be served, and will feature a barbershop chorus, the "Dominant Fours" and a short melodrama. Donations will be accepted and the public is invited.

Tuesday, May 21 is set for the evening meeting of the Women's Association at 7:30. An outstanding program has been arranged by Mrs. A. W. Elkington, and members of the Guild and Filia Circles will serve dessert at the beginning of the evening, with a selection of homemade pies and coffee. The speaker for the evening will be Mrs. Mary Kimber, director of the Palestine Institute of the Pacific School of Religion. She will show slides with a lecture commentary on Archaeological Discoveries of Biblical History. The public is invited to attend.

Low Income Tutorial Program

Monterey Peninsula College's projected summer recruiting and tutorial program for students from low-income families will need donations from local clubs and organizations if it is to be effective, Dr. Jack Bessire, MPC dean of student personnel, said today.

To explain the program and its goals, several students are available as speakers, Dr. Bessire said. Clubs desiring one of these speakers are urged to call him at the college (375-9821).

other stray parcels we picked up druing the day, were removed from within and without the bus — particularly since it all had to go back on the bus next morning, as we only stayed there one night! Poor Luke has the patience of Job as he climbs on top of the bus each morning to seccure the luggage which won't fit inside, and then does the same thing again each night when we finally arrive at our destination! I must say we are seeing a lot of the country-side, which is most interesting, although once or twice we have had exceedingly long drives, mainly because our Mini-Bus is not capable of going over 45 miles per hour, with all the weight aboard (and the weight is growing with each successive stop!) Also the roads in Europe are not what we are used to—except for a few miles of Auto-Bahn and Auto-Strada (Freeway, that is). They are mostly two lane highways with many curves, winding over mountain passes.

When we left Baden-Baden we drove to Lucerne through the Black Forest. Unfortunately, that day, there was a dense fog, so we were unable to tell whether the forest was black or not—we understand it is not! Evcrytime we have a meal, Jack wants sauerkraut, and it's unbelieveable how scarce this commodity is in the country from which it stems!

A Most Enchanting Kind of Escapism

Select a site in this delightful area and build your cottage NOW—then spend the next five or ten or even thirty years before you're ready to retire in just playing around with the greatest escape project known to man "fixing up" and enjoying your Carmel cottage on weekends and vacations, maybe adding to it eventually, and then, when you're ready to retire, it's more like a homecoming when you move in for good—to the one unique place in all the world created FOR you, BY you, in a village which is already "yours"—in contrast to moving to a brand new house in a brand new community.

To help you choose just the right site to begin your Carmel dream, each Spring we collect interesting and unusual sites into a little brochure which you can browse through and then locate the lots at your leisure. For YOUR Spring Lot Sampler, stop in at the office, or give us a call and we'll mail one to you.

Perhaps our little folder will be the first step toward making your dreams come true. We value this thought.

THE Wikler. SHOE BY BUSTER BROWN.

The Wikler shoe by Buster Brown has a flared and broadened fan-shaped toe outline. It's curved to follow every natural line of your child's foot. More wiggle room for toes. Provides freedom to flex, exercise and grow. A Wikler shoe is made with the very softest uppers. No irritating inside seams or stiff metal shanks to chap or chafe. Just natural shape and give. And the feeling of "going barefoot with shoes on".
